LAYERS

for graphic designers

LAYERS

for photographers

LAYERS

for graphic designers

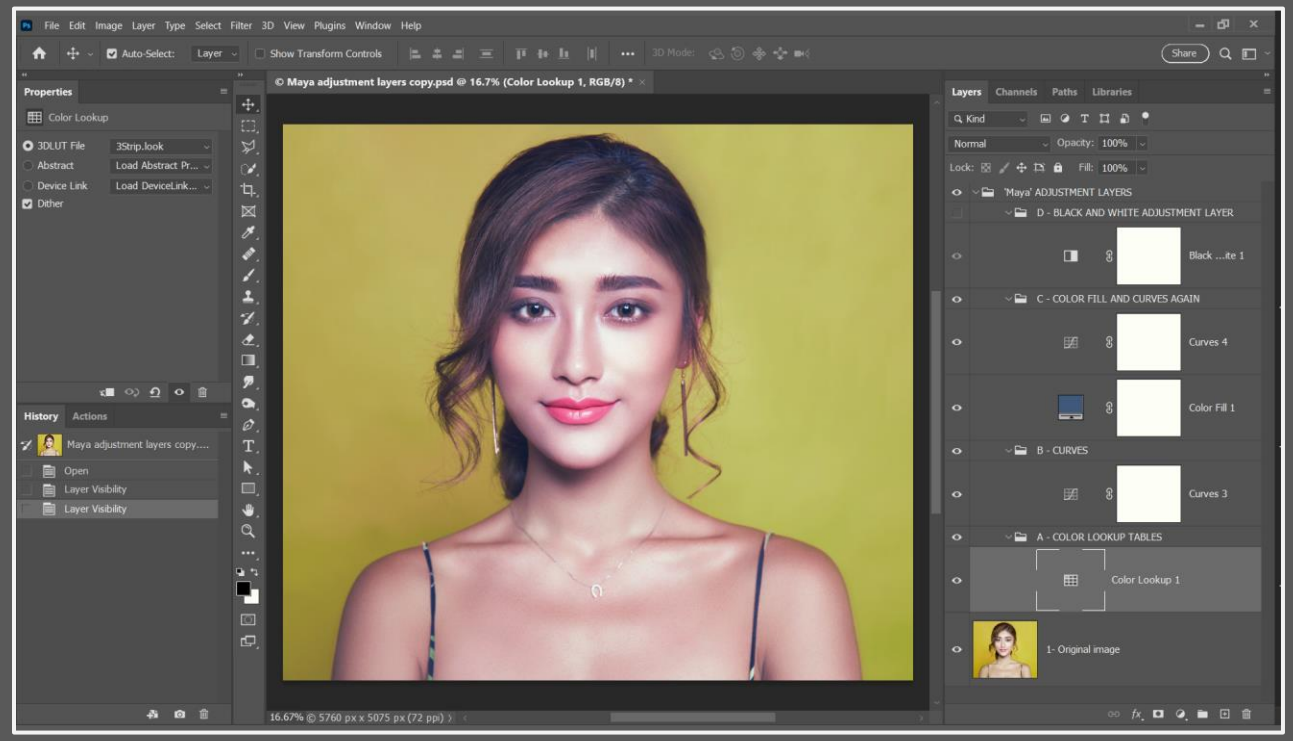

To create an image like the one above right graphic designers will create elements on individual layers and add them one on top of the other, creating a composite

LAYERS

for photographers

Photographers use layers to add adjustments to the image like shadow, light, colour, etc
Adjustments can be stacked in the same way a painter would add layers of paint to a canvas